

- A
- active listening, 141
 - active participation, 141
 - affectional relationships, 41
 - Ainsworth, Mary, 25–34
 - appearance at World Health Organization, 26–27
 - death and legacy of, 34
 - definitions of attachment, 7
 - early life and education of, 25
 - findings on holding and touch, 91
 - and impact of relational factors, 11
 - on infant crying, 99
 - studies on infant development
 - in Baltimore, 29–30
 - in Uganda, 27–28
 - work with Bowlby, 26
 - ambivalence, tolerance of, 62–65
 - anxiety, and fear, 124
 - anxious-ambivalent insecure attachment, 32, 141
 - anxious avoidant insecure attachment, 32–33, 141
 - attachment and attachments
 - as changing characteristic, 33
 - and competence, 121–124
 - and confidence, 123
 - definitions of, 5–8
 - early, benefits of, 105
 - indicators of, between mothers and babies, 28, 30
 - interactive quality of, 123–125
 - meaning of, 41
 - research on, 2
 - secure, 121–122
 - supporting babies in
 - developing, 126–129
 - types of, 32–33, 141–142
 - Attachment Parenting, 37
 - attachment theorists, contributions of, 7–8
 - attentive listening, 86–87
- B
- babies
 - adaptability of, 93–94
 - behavioral styles of, 48
 - changes in perceptions of, 55–56
 - emotional life of, 17
 - first relationships of, 7
 - freedom to explore, 141
 - fussy, supporting parents with, 107–108
 - Gerber on personal freedom for, 13–14
 - institutionalized, 8–9
 - observation of, in home environment, 26, 27–28, 29–30
 - securely attached, 28–29
 - temperaments of, 100
 - See also infant entries*
 - babies, support for
 - crying, 102
 - in healthy feeding routines, 76–78
 - holding and touching, 91
 - during stranger and separation anxiety, 113–114
 - by supporting families, 68–70
 - Baby and Child Care* (Spock), 12, 71
 - baby love, 130
 - baby showers, 108
 - balance, 43, 89, 94–95
 - behavioral styles of babies, 48
 - Belsky, Jay, 2–3
 - birthing rooms, 57
 - birth process
 - by Caesarian section, 13, 44, 70
 - changes in, 11–13, 56–58
 - coaches, 58
 - family choices in, 61
 - home births, 57, 70
 - Kennell and Klaus on, 45
 - siblings and, 56, 57, 108
 - Birth Without Violence* (Leboyer), 12
 - blaming, in early childhood field, 131
 - bonding
 - Brazelton on, 49, 69
 - critical periods for, 12, 42, 60
 - defined, 141
 - factors that prevent optimal, 44
 - Kennell and Klaus on, 12–13, 41, 45
 - Madrid and Pennington on, 44–45
 - meaning of, 41
 - second-stage, 42–43, 142
 - bottle-feeding, 73–74, 75–76
 - Bowlby, John, 17–24
 - Ainsworth and, 26
 - on attachment and protection, 121
 - definitions of attachment, 7
 - and developmental psychology, 10
 - and early intervention, 20
 - early life of and education of, 17–18
 - focus on discontinuity of care, 27
 - and impact of relational factors, 11
 - on infant crying, 99
 - Kagan on, 23
 - Karen on, 5–6
 - Mercer on, 6
 - publication of attachment theory, 22
 - Brazelton, T. Berry, 47–50
 - on bonding and attachment, 69
 - education and training of, 48
 - on family leave, 68
 - on fussy periods, 106
 - on infant crying, 97, 101
 - on infant feeding, 76
 - on infant temperaments, 100
 - on nursing, 73
 - and parental competence, 14
 - on parental perfection, 134–135
 - on parents' defense
 - mechanisms, 67–68
 - on separation anxiety, 116
 - on sleep practices, 83, 84
 - works by, 47, 49, 71, 90, 113, 134–135
 - breast-feeding, 73–74, 75–76, 79, 95
 - breast milk, 72, 73
 - Bronfenbrenner, Urie, 22, 139
- C
- Caesarian section birth, 13, 44, 70
 - Caldwell, Betty, 59
 - caregiving, experienced, 134
 - care providers. See early educators
 - caring, varied approaches to, 93
 - childbirth. See birth process
 - child care centers, as the new extended family, 59, 94–95
 - child care decisions, 62–63
 - child care providers. See early educators
 - child psychiatry, 48

- "child saving," 9
- choices, complexity of, 64
- coaches, in the birth process, 58
- colic, and infant crying, 100–101
- colostrum, 73
- comforting strategies, 102–103
- communications with parents
 - about daily details, 65
 - about developmental milestones, 65, 87, 95
 - about parental concerns, 117
 - about separation and stranger anxiety, 114
 - "grandmother's gut" ideas, 136–138
 - personal opinions in, 62, 70
 - providing avenues for, 87–88
 - scheduling time for, 65–66
- competence, 122–140
 - attachment and, 121–124
 - infant, 121, 123–126, 129–130
 - parental, 14, 54, 140
 - and public policy, 139
- competent physical care, 127
- complex vs. complicated processes or decisions, 62–64
- confidence, 122–140
 - attachments and, 123
 - parental, 100, 129–130, 133–135, 138
 - and public policy, 139
 - relationships and, 125
 - and trust, 124
- consistency, 141
- continuity of care, 77–78, 128
- conventional wisdom, 72, 93, 110
- cosleeping, 80–81, 83, 95
- counseling, 108
- critical periods, 12, 42, 43, 60
- cross-cultural research, 27–30, 44, 76
- cuddling, 21–22, 45, 76, 92, 94, 128
- cultural differences, 84, 88, 93
- cultural research, Ainsworth as pioneer of, 30
- D
- daily details, communication with parents about, 65, 87
- Dear Parent* (Gerber), 37–38
- decision-making, complex vs. complicated, 62–64
- defense mechanisms of parents, 66–68, 113, 120
- Demonstration Infant Project, Palo Alto, 36
- denial, as defense mechanism, 67, 141
- detachment, as defense mechanism, 67–68, 141
- developmental milestones, communication with parents about, 65, 87, 95
- E
- early childhood programs, 63
- early educators
 - ambivalence of, 9
 - compared to parents, 107–108
 - families of origin, impact on, 98
 - four-day work weeks, 66
 - and infant care practices, 65–66
 - responsibilities of, 59–60
 - responsibilities of, to remain informed, 59–60
 - societal support of, 139–140
 - sphere of influence, 60–61
 - stress of, 99
 - and supporting new parents, 97–98
- Early Head Start programs, 60, 63
- early language, 55, 85
- Ecological Systems Theory, 22
- educarer, 39, 141
- emotional care, sensitive, 127
- emotional development, 55, 77–78
- empirical data, significance of, 26
- environments
 - calm, for feeding, 77
 - defined, 141
 - parent friendly, for nursing, 79
 - sleeping, 84, 95
 - stranger-free, for infants, 115–116
- Erikson, Erik, 23, 91
- Every Child's Birthright* (Fraiberg), 3–4
- exhaustion, infant crying and, 106
- expectant families, 61–62
- experienced caregiving, 134
- F
- families
 - building relationships with, 69–70
- expectant, encouragement and support for, 61–62
- extended, 59, 94–95
- supporting choices of, in feeding practices, 74–76, 78–80
- supporting choices of, in parenting, 60–62, 92–93
- supporting relationships with infants, 129
- support structures for, 1, 5, 54, 58–59, 139–140
- families of origin, and early educators, 98
- Family Center at Exeter Hospital, New Hampshire, 45–46
- family-centered infant care, 53–54
- family-centered labor and delivery practices, 57
- family centers, feeding practices in, 75
- family leave, 68
- Family Leave Act, 48, 139
- feeding practices
 - and attachment, 76
 - at child care centers, 77
 - and emotional development, 77–78
 - in family centers, 75
 - recordkeeping on, 79–80
 - supporting family choice in, 74–76, 78–80
- Forrest, Thomas, 36
- four-day work weeks for early educators, 66
- Fraiberg, Selma, 3–4
- France, new-parent support in, 1
- freedom to explore, 141
- Freud, Sigmund, 19
- Frost, Jo, 4–5
- frustration, infant crying and, 106
- G
- Gerber, Magda, 35–40
 - death and legacy of, 37–38
 - early life of, 35
 - on infant carriers, 89
 - and infant competence, 124–125
 - on infant crying, 38
 - on infant feeding, 76
 - on infant supervision, 121

- Gerber, Magda (continued) and personal freedom for babies, 13–14
on sleep routines, 82, 83, 84
glossary, 141–142
Gonzalez-Mena, Janet, 9, 131
good-byes, 114–115
Greenman, Jim, 131
Grief—A Peril in Infancy (Spritz), 9 guilt, parental, 38
- H
- Harlow, Harry, 11, 21–22, 42, 73, 90
Harvard Preschool Project, 122 historical context, in studies of growth and development, 22 historical nodes of worry, 1, 44 holding, and attachment, 88–91
home births, 57, 70
Honig, Alice, 55, 88, 94–95, 112, 131 hurried lifestyles, 38, 83, 128
- I
- idealism, about parenting, 134
imprinting theory, 42 individualized approaches, 90 infant caregivers. See early educators infant caring, in RIE centers, 89–90
infant competence, 121, 123–126, 129–130
infant confidence, 121, 123–124
infant crying, 97–110
and attachment, 28, 99–102
as communication, 101–102 excessive, 101, 104–105, 107– 109, 110
Gerber on, 38
new parents and, 104–110 responses to, 55
at separation, 119
Spock on, 12
infant determinism, 22–23, 43
Infants and Mothers (Brazelton), 71, 90
infant-specific child care training, 98
- K
- Kagan, Jerome, 14, 23, 43
Karen, Robert, 4, 5–6, 26–27
Katz, Lilian, 131
Kennell, John, 41–46
See also Kennell and Klaus
Kennell and Klaus on approaches to sleep, 76, 82
on birth process, 45 on bonding, 12–13, 41, 45
cross-cultural research of, 44, 76 family-centered labor and delivery practices, 57
on infant feeding, 76
Klaus, Marshall, 41–46
See also Kennell and Klaus
- L
- labor and delivery coach, 58
La Leche League, 74
language, early, 55, 85
Largo, Remo, 80
Leach, Penelope, 75, 109
Leboyer, Frédérick, 12 licensing regulations, 135
lifespan development, 141 listening, active, 141 listening, attentive, 86–87 Loczy (National Methodological Institute), 36
looping, in early education programs, 98–99, 141
Lorenz, Konrad, 42
loving relationships, 55, 127, 128
- M
- maternal ambivalence, 2 maternal deprivation, 21–22, 27 maternal-infant bonding, 44–45 Maternal-Infant Bonding (Kennell and Klaus), 12–13, 41, 45
maternity leave, 68
Mercer, Jean, 6, 22–23
midwifery, 45
mindfulness, 89
mindfulness, in parenting and teaching, 89, 94
mother blaming, 130–133, 140
mother-child relationships, complexity of, 11, 28–30
- motherhood, 21, 136, 139
mothering, compared to teaching, 131 music, at naptime, 84
- N
- nannies, 17, 35
nature vs. nurture debate, 10–11
Neonatal Behavioral Assessment Scale (NBAS), 49–50
newborns, 97, 102, 111 night waking in young children, 80 nodes of worry, historical, 1, 44 nonbonding, effects of, 45 non-family care, 3 nursing after returning to work, 73, 95
as basis for affectional ties, 21 benefits of, 72
parent friendly environments for, 79
support of, in the workplace, 74
See also breast-feeding; breast milk
- O
- object permanence concept, 112 observation as guide to infant wants and needs, 92
in home environments, 26, 27– 28, 29–30, 54
sensitive, 142
of sleep practices, 83, 84
On Becoming a Family (Brazelton), 49
orphanages in post-World War II
England, 21
overstimulation, 141
- P
- parental attitudes, basis of, 19 parental competence, 14, 54, 140 parental confidence, 100, 129–130, 133–135, 138
parental guilt, 38 parental self-esteem, early educators and, 61
parental support, value of, vs. costs of institutional care, 21 parent-child separation, early, 20 parent-early educator partnerships, 49, 53–54, 59

- parent groups, 108 parenthood, 129–130, 136–138 parent-infant bonding and attachment, 42, 44 parenting good, 42
 good enough, 133
 idealism about, 134
 mindfulness in, 89, 94
 unresponsive or manipulative, 20 parents comforting behaviors of, toward infants, 73 competent, and confident babies, 136 defense mechanisms of, 66–68, 113, 120 of easy baby vs. fussy baby, 100 emotional support for, 133–135 resentment against, 132–133 techniques to support new, 105
 See also communications with parents perfectionism, 134
Perfect Madness (Warner), 1–2
Perry Preschool Project, 20 personal opinions, in communications with new parents, 62, 70
Piaget, Jean, 112
Pikler, Emmi, 35–36, 125
play, uninterrupted, 142
playpens, 122 presence in the moment, 40 primary caregiving at infant centers, 77–78, 127 professional intervention, 108–109 projection, as defense mechanism, 67, 141 public policy, 138–140
- Q qualitative research studies, 20 quality child care, 3
- R
recordkeeping, about feeding practices, 79–80 relationships
 affectional, 41 barriers to, 128 family-early educator, 69–70 family-infant, 129
 first, for babies, 7
 interactive quality of, 124
 loving, 55, 127 mother-child, 28–29
 parent-early educator, 59
Resources for Infant Educators (RIE), 36–37, 39, 89–90, 125–126 respect for infants, 36–37, 37, 140 rhesus monkeys, study of, 11, 21–22, 42, 73, 90 RIE approach, 36–37, 39, 89–90, 125–126 right ways, differences in, 135–136 risks to unattached infants, 9 romantic views of newborns and family, 97 rooming-in, 58
- S
Salter, Mary Dinsworth (Ainsworth), 25 savior complex, 9
second-stage bonding, 42–43, 142 secure attachments, 32, 142 self-fulfilling prophesies, 122 separation, attachment theory and, 10, 111–113 separation anxiety, 111–114, 116–119, 142
- settling routines, 85, 103 siblings, 56, 57, 80, 84, 108 sleep deprivation, 83, 85–86, 92 sleep logs, 81, 83
sleep practices, 76, 80–85, 95, 103
Smith, Janna Malamud, 53 societal support of families and early educators, 139–140
Spitz, René, 9–10, 11, 99
Spock, Benjamin, 12, 71, 94, 101
startle reflex, 103
Stonehouse, Anne, 59, 64
stranger anxiety, 111–116, 119, 120, 142 strangers, 103
Strange Situation, 10, 30–31, 123, 142 support structures for families, 1, 5, 54, 58–59, 139–140
swaddling, 84, 103
- T
teachers. See early educators teacher training programs, 9 temperaments of babies, 100 toileting practices, 64 touch, and attachment, 88–91
Touchpoints approach, 48, 49, 114
Touchpoints (Brazelton), 113, 134–135 trust, basic, 141
- W
Warner, Judith, 1
water birth, 12
Winnicott, D. W., 133–134
women, middle-class, in early 1900s, 17
World War II, 21, 23