

Index

Note: Page numbers in italics indicate figures or illustrations.

- Affordable housing, 145, 145, 148–49, 152, 152, 153
- Agricultural land, 71–73, 164, 172. See also Ranchland
- Amenity-driven migration, 28–29, 164
- Amenity ranchers, 157, 159, 162–64, 168–70
- Amenity zone for resorts, 146. See also Landscape amenities
- American Farmland Trust, 164
- American West, 12 (map); assessment of future of, 158–59; attractiveness of, 17, 24; defined, 243n1; economic equation of, 138; emergence of new, 3–4; population growth in, 13; reshaping of, 198–99
- Analytical planning tools, 201, 231
- Annexation and sprawl, 99, 191
- Anti-planning movement, 96, 254n74
- Arendt, Randall, 113–14
- Arizona, 4, 51, 115. See also specific places
- Aspen, Colorado, 148, 151, 152, 153–54, 249n12
- Aspenization, 132–33, 149–50, 152–54
- Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG), 202–3
- Babbitt, Bruce, 187–88, 194, 201, 207–10, 274n7
- Baby boomers, 144–45, 160–61
- Barrett, Richard, 24, 28
- Base economy model, 51–52
- Beatley, Timothy, 223–24
- Bend, Oregon, 197, 276n1
- Best, Allen, 114–15
- Bitterroot Valley (Montana), 77, 78
- Blevins, Jason, 147–49
- Boise, Idaho, 77–78, 217
- Boom-and-bust cycles, 8, 13, 16, 20–21
- Boom-and-bust mentality, 188–89
- "Boom Time in the Rockies" (Time magazine), 25
- Boosterism and growth, 90–92
- Boulder, Colorado, 43–44, 82, 275n14
- Boulder County, Colorado, 207, 222
- Bozeman, Montana, 121
- Bruegmann, Robert, 95–97
- Burchell, Robert, 98
- Bureau of Land Management (BLM), 63–65
- Bureau of Reclamation, 91
- California, 47, 51, 65–66, 274n5. See also specific places
- California Coastal Commission, 208–9
- California Coastal Zone Conservation Act (1976), 209
- California Gnatcatcher, 207
- Canyons, The, 133
- Carbon footprint, 153
- Casa Grande, Arizona, 109
- Cascade Agenda, 225
- Cascadia, 103
- Celebrities as ranch owners, 162–163
- Census of Agriculture, 71–72
- Central business districts (CBDs), 108–9
- Chicken-or-egg conundrum, 47, 51
- Chiricahua Mountains (Arizona), 164
- Cities: edge, 36, 112; metro-zones and, 104–8; origins and growth of, 89–93; and sprawl, 37; twin, 75; wildlands consumption by, 97. See also specific cities
- City cores, 36
- Clovis, California, 206
- Cluster developments, 123
- Coal, production and use of, 20–21
- Coastal Zone Management Act, 207, 209
- COGs. See Councils of governments (COGs)
- Colorado Conservation Trust, 230, 274n6
- Colorado Front Range. See Front Range (Colorado)
- Commercial development, 142, 275n14
- Communities: characteristics of desirable, 27; collaboration with resorts, 151–52; and comprehensive planning processes, 220–21;

New Geographies of the American West: Land Use and the Changing Patterns of Place
by
William R. Travis

- Communities (Continued): development as threat to social functioning of, 2; geography of western, 7; success of carefully planned, 6
- Community, sense of, 141, 150, 212–16
- Community activism, 222–24
- Community conservation strategies, 230–31
- Community planning models, 237–40
- Community visioning and land development disjunction, 182–83
- CommunityViz planning software, 8, 239–40
- Commuting, 117–18, 148, 260n39
- Comprehensive land use plans, 186–88, 219–21, 278n26. See also Land use planning
- Computer simulation tools, 237–38
- Conservation Beef program, 174
- Conservation by design, 234–37
- Conservation easements, 175, 228–29
- Conservation owners, 170–71, 174
- Core cities, in metro-zones, 104
- Core resort, 146
- Councils of governments (COGs), 152, 192, 202–5
- County governments, 65–66
- County scale planning, 239
- Cromartie, John, 38
- Cropland and cropping, 71–72
- Databases, GIS, 232–33
- Davis, California, 206
- Davis, Mike, 4
- Davis, Tony, 115–16
- Demographics, 51, 151
- Denver, Colorado: accommodations to growth, 37; author's view of, 44; in Great American Desert, 245n12; imprint of, 77; metropolitan area, 101 (map); as metro-zone, 109; population of, during 1980s, 21; rural road networks and exurban development, 122–23; urban growth boundary, 114
- Denver and Rio Grande (Denver, Northwestern and Pacific) railroad, 91
- Denver International Airport (DIA) Business Partnership, 100–102
- Denver Regional Council of Governments (DRCOG), 20, 192
- Developed area, western states, 74
- Developers, and comprehensive planning processes, 220–21
- Development: booms, 1; boundaries on, 63–65; community visioning and, disjunction, 182–83; and cost of public services, 30; cumulative nature of western, 14; desirable locations for, 5; ecological footprint of, 5, 7; effects of, 5; externalized costs of, 198; exurban, Sierra Nevada foothills, 5; faces of, 77–79; gradients of, 79–84; guidelines for rural west, 211–12; incentives for, historical, 17–19; nighttime satellite image of, 34; NRI as national assessment of, 73; private, and public land boundaries, 43; rate of, compared to population growth, 94, 97; resort, densities of, 143; risks of rapid, 8; speculation-driven, 18; threats of, 2; urban-to-exurban, Southeastern Arizona, 4. See also Exurban development
- Development footprint. See Footprints
- Development patterns, 2, 43, 75, 120–23, 197
- Dhavale, Dawn, 102–3, 109
- Direct basic industries, 137–38
- Disturbance zones, 124
- Dodge, Grenville, 90
- Donnelly, Idaho, 144
- Douglas County, Colorado, 149
- Douglas Ranch (Arizona), 107
- Downhill skiing, and resort development, 135
- Down-valley effect, 143, 146–49
- Duane, Timothy, 59–60, 66, 114, 121–22, 181–82, 187–88
- Duerksen, Christopher, 192–93, 211–12
- Dugout Ranch (Utah), 162
- East River Valley (Colorado), 165
- Ecological footprint, 85
- Economic growth, 28, 31, 51–56
- Economic history, 30–31
- Economic laws, geographic expression of, 92–94
- Economic models, traditional, 51–52, 137–38
- Economic transformations, 22–24, 153
- Economies, types of, 17, 141–42
- Economies of scale, 92–94, 139

New Geographies of the American West: Land Use and the Changing Patterns of Place
by
William R. Travis

- Ecoregional assessments, 236–37
Ecoregional planning, 234
Ecosystem processes, 126–27
Edge cities, 36, 112
Employment. See Jobs
Enabling forces of development, 45–46, 57–60, 99–100, 130
Endangered Species Act, 207, 256n17
Energy prices, and development, 29, 67
Envision Utah, 224–25, 233
Erie, Colorado, 189–90
Estrella Mountain Ranch (Arizona), 108
European model of land use policy, 194
Evergreen, Colorado, 123
Exurban development, 83; around small towns, 115–16; in Bitterroot Valley, 78; effects of, 125–26, 129–30; enabling forces for, 130; and fire suppression, 127; on foothills, 114; footprints of, 4, 76, 123–24; land area of, 111; large-lot, 38, 157, 163–64, 175–76; as pattern, 43, 120–23; and perforated habitat, 123; professional planning practice and, 113–14; road network, 125; satellite view of, 75; south of Bozeman, 121; stand-alone subdivision, 122; in urban-to-wildland gradient, 80–81; and wildlife, 128–29; zones of influence of, 124
Exurbanization: and commuting times, 117–18; effects of, on natural habitat, 112; enabling forces of, 59–60; and inefficient land use, 112; perspectives on, 269n1; political ecology of, 119; process of, 111
Exurbia: and ecosystem processes, 126–27; as term, 111–12; of the West, 111; as western development landscape, 119–30
Exurbs: overview, 37–39; as concept, 112; definition of, 113; as trans-suburban commuting zones, 116–17
Family dynamics, and ranch sales, 162
Family subdivisions, 120
Family ties and locational preferences, 55
Federal government: and land use planning, 184–85, 209–10, 278n16; role of, in land use policy, 194–95, 201; and western settlement, 17–18
Federal Highway Aid Act (1962), 276n23
Federal lands, 209. See also Public lands
Fertility rates, 48, 261n40
Fire suppression, 126, 127
5-S Framework for Conservation Project Management, 236
Florida Everglades, 207–9
Foothill landscapes, 5, 59–60, 114–15, 121–22, 125, 217
Footprints: of amenity ranching, 169; assessment of effects of, 239; calculation of, for urbanized city, 97; carbon, 153; convergence of, 78–79; definition, 69; ecological, 5, 7, 85; of exurban development, 123–24; golf courses and, 143; growing, 83; of mountain resort, 40; off-site effects, 84–85; of regional development, 63–65; of regional development, coarse-filter view, 69–75; of regional development, satellite view, 75–76; resort, 141–44; of rural gentrification, 163–64; of Upper Green River valley ranches, 3; of urbanized West, 7, 88; of urban-to-exurban development, 4; of western cities, 37
Front Range (Colorado), 43, 103–4, 114–15, 125; urban corridor of, 97
Galactic cities, and metro-zones, 104–8
Gallatin County, Montana, 66
Gallatin Valley (Montana), 160, 162
Gentrified range, 40–42, 41, 159–64, 176
Geographic information systems (GIS), 231–34
Golden, Colorado, 246n28
Golf courses, 1, 143
Government, and development, 57–61. See also individual levels of government
Gradients of development, 79–84
Grazing, 175–76
Great Depression, and western migration, 19
Greater Yellowstone Coalition, 66, 127, 222, 227–28
Great Plains, 50, 77, 243n1, 270n10
Great Valley Center, 225
Greeley, Colorado, 191
Green infrastructure, 216–19

New Geographies of the American West: Land Use and the Changing Patterns of Place

by
William R. Travis

- "Growing Smarter at the Edge" (Sonoran Institute), 210–11
Growth, 2, 57–59, 177
Growth management: challenges of, 29–30; critics of, 6, 96–97; intensifying call for, 195; land use planning and, 188–90; local vs. regional efforts, 190–93; tools for effective, 200–201
Gunnison, Colorado, 8

Habitat loss and degradation, 84–85
Highway improvements, 99–102, 107, 109, 259n30, 261n41, 276n23
Holechek, Jerry, 156–57, 164
Homeowners' associations, 175
Home rule, and sprawl, 99, 193–94
Human modification framework, 80

Idaho, 51. See also specific places
Immigration, 47–48
Information technologies, and exurbanization, 60
Inland Empire, as future megapolitan area, 103
Institute for the Environment and Natural Resources, 125
Intergovernmental agreements (IGAs), 206–7
Interlocken office park, 54–55
International immigration, 47–48
Interstate compacts, 208
Interstate highways, 99–100, 261n41

Jackson, Wyoming, 135, 148, 154
Jobes, Patrick, 53–54
Jobs: exurbia and, 60, 116; growth of, as driver of development, 56–57; and housing imbalance, 275n14; and population growth, 53, 251n36; in service sector, 27, 139; shift in sectors as enabling force in exurbanization, 59–60
Jobs-housing imbalance, 275n14
Joint Venture: Silicon Valley Network, 55, 252n47

Kemmis, Daniel, 199–201
Klingenstein, Charles, 133–36, 146
Knight, Richard, 166, 272–73n40
Knudson, Tom, 128, 181–82, 226–27

Lage, Jessica, 161, 167
Land conservation groups, 228–31
Land management, changes in, 42
Land ownership patterns, Madison Valley, 6
Land rush, 13, 18
Landscape amenities, 28–29, 53–54, 56–57, 140–41, 164
Landscape ecology, 5
Landscape scale planning, 200, 211–12
Landscaping, seminatural, 36–37
Land speculation, 17–18
Land trusts, 228–31, 255n3
Land use: advocacy, 221–22; authority, 199; codes, 210–19; county regulations, 165–66; debates, 2; decision support systems, 234–37; inventories, 70–71; laws, 99, 115; models, 112; NGOs, 200–201, 222–23; patterns, 3, 35–36, 81, 121–22; problems of resort zones, 40; restrictions, exurbanites and, 119; standards, benefits of, 210; state laws, 165
Land use planning: buy-in from key interests, 185–86; consent and implementation, 182–83; failures of traditional, 177; fragmentation in, 191–92; gap between, and actual development, 186–88, 219–22; government roles in, 184–85; and growth management, 188–90; integrated, across landscapes, 199–210; and jurisdictional geographies, 183–84; local vs. regional authority, 192–93; in metro-zones, 108–9; need for new template, 241; pro-development interests vs., 182; as shaping force of development, 60–61, 65–67; state, 193–95; tools for, 195, 200–201, 231, 237–38; traditional, 180–82
Land use policies, forces for sprawl vs., 179
Land Use Policy and Planning Assistance Act (1973), 194
Lang, Robert, 102–3, 109, 117, 130, 258n20
Large-lot subdivisions, 38, 157, 163–64, 175–76

Las Vegas, Nevada, 5, 35, 36, 91–92
Leavitt, Mike, 107
Level 3 Communications, 54–55, 247–48n49
Lewis, Pierce, 158–59
Limerick, Patricia Nelson, 17–18, 160

New Geographies of the American West: Land Use and the Changing Patterns of Place
by
William R. Travis

- Lincoln Institute of Land Policy, 210–11
Linear cities, and metro-zones, 104–8
Livestock grazing, 71
Local control, 45, 99
Local governments, 119, 185, 187–88, 200
Locational preferences of employees and corporate strategy, 54–55
Los Angeles, California, 37, 96
Low-density development, effects of, 125
- Madison County, Montana, 175
Madison Valley (Montana), 6, 171–75
Manifest destiny, 18
Megalopolis, 102
Megapolitan areas, 102–3
Metro-dynamics, 108–9
Metropolitan geographies, new, 102–4
Metro-zones, 34–37, 75, 104–9, 260n37
Migration: amenity-driven, 28–29, 164; Great Depression and, 19; to urban fringe, and sprawl, 98; to western Montana, 53–54; wildlife routes, 217–18
Models: base economy, 51–52; cities and gravity, 93; community planning, 237–40; economic sectors in traditional, 137–38; European, in land use policy, 194; land use codes, 210, 216–19; planning, black box mode, 240
Montana, 53–54, 122–23. See also specific places
Montana Land Reliance, 229–30
Multiplier effect, urban growth and, 92–94
- National Association of Home Builders (NAHB), 61, 107, 257n17
National Resources Inventory (NRI), 73–74, 255n7
Natural amenities, 28–29, 53–54, 56–57, 140–41, 164
Nature Conservancy, The (TNC), 162, 164–65, 170, 174, 230–31, 234–37
Neighborhood activism, 222–23
Neighborhood scale planning, with PLACE<sup>3</sup>S, 238–39
Nelson, Peter, 159
Nested scales planning, 238
Nevada, 51. See also specific places
Nevada County, California, 66, 119, 121
New Ruralism, 157–58
New West, expansion of, 25
New West School, 45–46, 53–54, 138, 251n36
NGOs. See Nongovernmental organizations (NGOs)
Noneconomic goals, and relocation choices, 53–54
Nongovernmental organizations (NGOs), 200–201, 205, 222–27
NorCal, 103
NRI. See National Resources Inventory (NRI)
Nuclear waste, 3
- Oakland, California, 77–78
Office space, 54–55, 98, 117
1000 Friends of Oregon, 222
Open space, 97, 214–17, 267n13
Oregon, 65–66, 222, 254n70, 254n73, 274n5.
See also specific places
Orton Family Foundation, 225–26, 239–40
O'Toole, Randal, 96, 254n74
- Paradise Valley (Montana), 162
Park City, Utah, 133, 141–42, 149–50
Park County, Montana, 226
Participatory planning, 185, 219–22
Pastoralism, 156, 175–76
Patterns of place, 85. See also Land use: patterns
Peirce, Neal, 202–3
Personal income, 24, 26
Personal services, demand in resort communities, 139
Phoenix, Arizona, 36, 91, 97, 107–9
Physical geography and western development, 63–65
Picture Rocks, Arizona, 115–16
Pidot, Jeff, 228–29
Place, sense of, 77–79, 155, 212–16
PLACE<sub>3</sub>S planning software, 7, 204, 238
PLAN-Boulder County (Colorado), 222
Planning models, 237–40
Planning processes, 129–30, 149–50, 185
Planning software, 7–8, 204, 238–40
Plumas County, California, 165–66
Political culture of the West, 24, 165

New Geographies of the American West: Land Use and the Changing Patterns of Place

by

William R. Travis

- Political-economic regime, 65
Politics, new rural, 118
Population: by census regions, 15; loss of, in Interior West, 50–51; in resort towns, 141–42
Population growth: of American West, 13; during bust of 1980s, 21; by county, 50; distribution by age group in western States, 49; as driving force, 47–51; job loss and, 53; in Park City, Utah, 133; projections for western states, 52; projections to 2030, 51; regional projections, 7, 31; in rural areas, 41; 1970s oil embargo and, 20
Portland, Oregon, 96, 111–12, 114
Postindustrial economy of the West, 22, 27, 29
Power, Thomas Michael, 23–24, 27–28, 138, 251n35
Preferences, personal, 45–46, 54–57, 61–63, 166
Pro-development forces, economic power of, 179
Public lands, 18, 42–43, 63–65, 142, 209, 218–19, 255n2
Public participation in land use planning, 185, 219–22
Public sector planning for communities, 219–22
Puget Sound Council of Governments, 202–3
Puget Sound Regional Council (PSRC), 191–92, 203–4

Quality of life, 24, 53–54, 116, 160

Rademan, Myles, 134, 150
Rampton, Calvin, 261n41
Ranch buyers, typology of, 172–73
Ranches: antiurban connotation of, 155–56; footprints of, Upper Green River valley, 3; rural gentrification of, 42; sales of, 161–62, 168, 172; subdivision of, 38, 164–66; traditional, 172–73
Ranchettes, 163–66
Ranchland, 42, 157–58, 166–72, 176
Ranch trusts, 230
Rangelands, 111, 155–57, 171–76
Rangeland trusts, 230
Real estate ads, 62
Real estate market, 30, 133
Recreational ranching, 169
Recreational tastes, 151–52
Red Zone, 264n41
Regional councils, 203–4
Regional development, 69–76, 224–27
Regional environmental groups, 227–28
Regionalism: academic centers and nonprofits and, 201; champions of, 199–201; COGs and bottom-up approach to, 202–5; federal government and, 207–10; local governments and resistance to, 206–7
Regional NGOs, business core of, 226–27
Regional planning: federal role in, 208–9; goals of SACOG, 204; need for, 152, 199–201; with PLACE<sup>3</sup>S, 239; tools for, 200; watchdogs, 221–22
Residential real estate development, 142–43, 145
Resort development, 132, 135–37, 140–47, 151
Resort residents, 146–47, 150
Resorts: collaboration with communities, 151–52; economies of, 136–39; future of, 151–53; geographies of, 131, 132, 146; as places, 140–41
Resort zones, 39–40
Retirement boom, 48–50, 151
Ridgetop development, 187
Ringholz, Raye, 39, 133–34, 140–41
Rio Grande, Upper, 103, 104
Robbins, William, 17, 89
Rothman, Hal, 39–40
Rural areas, study of, 158–59
Rural counties, 113–14, 116, 120
Rural development, 62, 113, 120, 122–23, 125, 211–12
Rural gentrification, 159–64. See also Gentrified range
Rural property market, 159–60, 164

Sacramento, California, 7
Sacramento Area Council of Governments (SACOG), 204
Sacramento Region Blueprint, 191–92, 204, 238–39
Salt Lake City, Utah, 77–78, 105–7, 109, 122–23

New Geographies of the American West: Land Use and the Changing Patterns of Place

by

William R. Travis

- Salt Lake Valley, Utah, 109
Satellite views, 34, 75–76
Schendler, Auden, 118–19
Seattle, Washington, 114, 214–15
Second homes, 40, 139, 141–42, 145, 152–53
Sense of community, 141, 150, 212–16
Sense of place, 77–79, 155, 212–16
Services sector, 27, 139
Shaping forces, 45–46, 60–67
Short-term lodging units, 141–42
Shutkin, William, 223–24, 241
Sierra Business Council (SBC), 226–27
Sierra County, California, 165–66
Sierra Nevada Ecosystem Project, 84–85
Sierra Nevada foothills, 5, 59–60, 114, 121–22
Sierra Nevada Wealth Index, 227
Ski industry, 1, 153
Smart growth, 198–99, 211, 224–27
Smart Growth Strategy/Livability Footprint Project (ABAG), 202
Snake River Arc as metro-zone, 104
Snake River Plain, 1
Snyder, Cara, 192–93
Snyder, Ken, 185
Sonoran Desert Conservation Plan, 218
Sonoran Institute, 210–11, 224–26
Southern Rockies ecoregion, 125–26
Southern Utah Wilderness Alliance, 227
Southland, as megapolitan area, 103
Sprawl: affordable housing crisis and, 148–49; annexation and, 191; contemporary, 258n23; debates about, 96–97; defined, 94; forces for, vs. land use policies, 179; geographic logics of, 98–99; home rule and, 193–94; infrastructure for, 99–102; of linear cities, 104–5; studies of, 95; of western cities, 37
St. Joe Company, 158
Staging areas for resorts, 146
Starrs, Paul, 164
State lands, 218–19, 255n2. See also Public lands
State land use laws, 165, 203
State land use planning, 184–85, 193–95
Subdivisions: large-lot, 38, 157, 163–64, 175–76; in resort zones, 40; rural, 113, 120; stand-alone, 122; typical, 82; wildcat, 115
Sublette County, Wyoming, 3, 169, 226
Suburban edges, 2, 98–99
Suburban growth, cost of services for, 93
Suburban living, American preference for, 61–62, 166
Suburbs: of Las Vegas, Nevada, 35; metro-dynamics of cities, 108–9; office developments, 98; patterns of, 81; rapid growth of, 36; in urban-to-wildland gradient, 80
Summit County, Colorado, 138
Summit County, Utah, 133, 149–50
Sun Microsystems, 54–55
Sun Ranch (Madison Valley), 170–71, 174
Sun Valley, Idaho, 1, 148
Sustainable development, 136, 153–54, 223–24
Tahoe Regional Planning Agency (TRPA), 204, 207–8
Tarrant, John, 112–13
Theobald, David, 79, 80, 119–20, 129–30
TNC. See Nature Conservancy, The (TNC)
Tools for land use planning, 195, 200–201, 231, 237–38
Tourism, European studies of, 135
Towns, small, 42, 104
Transportation infrastructure, 122–23, 142–44
Trans-suburban commuting zones, 116–17
Truckee Meadows Regional Planning Agency, 204
Tucson, Arizona, 109
Upper Rio Grande, 103, 104
Urban growth, 92–94, 104
Urban growth boundaries (UGBs), 96, 114
Urban-to-wildland gradient, 79–84
U.S. Census Bureau: "micropolitan" category, 35; population distribution by age group, 49; population growth projections for western states, 52; population growth rates by county, 50; share of total population by region, 15
U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), 72–73. See also National Resources Inventory (NRI)
U.S. Forest Service (USFS), 63–65
Utah, 51. See also specific places

New Geographies of the American West: Land Use and the Changing Patterns of Place
by
William R. Travis

- Vail, Colorado: Blue Sky Basin, 243n2; footprint of, 143; high-end residences and worker housing, 145
- Valley of the Sun, as megapolitan area, 103
- Van Hemert, James, 211–12
- Viewsheds, 77, 79
- Walker, Peter, 119–21
- Wasatch Back (Utah), 114
- Wasatch Front (Utah), 97, 103, 104–5, 106 (map), 108–9
- Washington, 65–66. See also Seattle, Washington
- Watchdogs, 221–22
- Water, 31, 63
- Western development history, 8, 14
- Western futures, 73–75, 109
- Western Governors Association (WGA), 201
- Western mythology, 160
- Wildcat subdivisions, 115
- Wilderness areas, 31–32, 69–70, 97
- Wildfires, 5, 126
- Wildland-urban interface (WUI), 126, 127, 128–29
- Wildlife migration routes, 217–18
- Winter Olympics (2002), 133–34
- Worker housing, 145. See also Affordable housing
- Yellowstone National Park, 164, 168. See also Greater Yellowstone Coalition
- Yellowstone to Yukon Conservation Initiative, 218
- Zones of influence, 85, 123, 124, 145
- Zoning and development codes, 213–16